Welcome to Indian Peak Vineyards

OUR WINEMAKING AND GRAPE GROWING ABILITIES ARE ON LOAN FROM GOD

Indian Peak Vineyards is a small family owned and operated winery in the little town of Manton in Northern California.

Our goal is to produce the very best quality wine possible from our unique location. We are currently producing Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Petite Sirah, Port, Chardonnay, and Sauvignon Blanc.

Our vineyards are at 2200ft elevation on the western slope of Mount Lassen in Northern California. Our soils are red volcanic and well drained and they slope to the west. Our summertime temperatures usually reach 100 degrees and our night time temperatures drop to the mid 60's.

We look forward to and welcome visitors who stop by and would like to taste the fruits of our labor.

Open Saturdays and Sundays 12:00-5:00

Weekdays by appointment call (530) 474-5506

History

In the 1980s, we moved from the Bay Area to Calistoga after we purchased a small ranch in Jericho Canyon at the base of Mt. St. Helena. It took less than a minute to know that this ranch was what we had been looking for the previous three years: it had a creek filled with tadpoles and water skeeters, a 100 year old farm house, a pond shaded by gorgeous oak trees, a stupendous view of the Palisades and Mt. St. Helena, and meadows dotted with wild flowers. We knew without a doubt that this was the place to raise our children.

Originally given in a land grant to a veteran of the Civil War as payment for his services, the ranch is situated along the road to the old Silverado Mine, a spot made famous by Robert Lewis Stevenson in his book Silverado Squatters. The property had been used as a cattle ranch since the 1930s, but it showed evidence of a pre-Prohibition vineyard alongside of Jericho Creek. We replanted the old vineyard and extended it up the canyon, terracing extensively due to the steepness of the terrain. With the terraces following the contours of the land, it is reminiscent of an old world style vineyard.

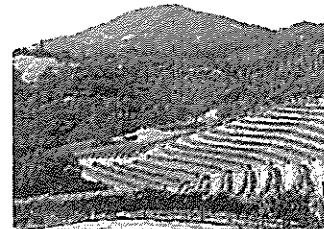

We planted Cabernet Sauvignon in 1990 and Merlot and Cabernet Franc in 1993. In the early years, we sold our fruit to a variety of wineries including Chateau Montelena, Sterling Vineyards, and Clos du Val. It was not until 1998, however, that we were finally confident we were producing the highest quality fruit. We began selling our grapes to Rudd Estate, which produced a vineyard designate wine that was very well received by the critics (Robert Parker : Rudd Jericho Canyon Vineyard 1998 – 95, 1999 – 92, 2000 – (90-92).

From 2001-2005 our fruit went to Ramey Wine Cellars, which produced a much sought after vineyard designate wine - Ramey Wine Cellars Jericho Canyon Vineyard. Winemaker David Ramey also produced an ultra premium wine for our own label, Jericho Canyon Vineyard. Again, the wine received exceptional reviews (please see our Reviews page).

The 2006 harvest was an historic one for us: we completed our winery in the center of our vineyard and produced our first Estate wines. With winemakers Robbie Meyer and Jade Barrett only steps away in the winery, we are all able to keep a watchful eye on the vineyard as we wait for optimal grape development. Once harvested, the fruit takes the short trip to the winery where we carefully and attentively process each small lot.

Following the 2006 harvest, we removed the majority of our Merlot and Cabernet Franc, and we began replanting by adding a variety of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, and Cabernet Franc clones. In addition, we added Petit Verdot, Sauvignon Blanc, and Syrah. Field budded in the spring of 2008, these plants should produce quality fruit in 2010.

Governer's Cup Gold

The Virginia Governor's Cup has finished up and Keswick received 2 of only 16 gold medals awarded. This year's cup was limited to whites only and 197 wines from all over the state entered. Our 2009 Viognier and 2009 Viognier Reserve received the medals and we were happy to be honored.

Our Place In History

Keswick Vineyards, located at Edgewood, is a gracious Virginia estate encompassing 400 rolling acres of farm and woodland rich in history. The land was part of the original 1727 Nicholas Meriwether Crown Grant that encompassed nearly 18,000 acres on the east side of the Southwest Mountains. More »

2009 Les Vents d'Ange Viognier

An off dry wine with aromas of peach, pineapple and orange peel. The acid is balanced by a touch of sweetness, while the palate is clean and focused. This wine is intended for early consumption but will continue to improve over the next 1-2 years.

2009 Viognier

Gorgeous aromas of apricots and pineapples; followed by flavors of cantaloupe, green apples and Asian pears. This new Viognier is very focused and clean and may be laid down for a further 1-2 years but may be enjoyed young, pair with spicy Thai dishes and Indian curries.

2009 Chardonnay

The wine exudes aromas of lemon grass and green apple with good minerality and flintiness displayed on the palate, resulting in a Chardonnay that is much leaner and focused than in previous years. Will continue to improve in the bottle over the next 3-5 years, but may be enjoyed young.

2009 Touriga

Garnet red with violet hues, this wine has an aroma of blue berries and red cherries smoky undertones. The palate is very fruit forward but has a pleasant touch of smokiness. This Touriga will warrant cellar for 3 - 5 years.

Keswick, Virginia

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Coordinates: 38°1′30″N 78°21′20″W

Keswick is an unincorporated community in Albemarle County, Virginia, United States, about six miles east of Charlottesville.

Keswick has few businesses, and lacks a central business district. It is predominantly residential, with a mixture of large farms, estates, middle-income, and low-income housing. Since many of the parcels of land in Keswick are large, it is relatively undeveloped and still retains its natural beauty, which is enhanced by a prominent view of the Southwest Mountains. The drive through Keswick "has often been cited as one of the most scenic in America," writes the New York Times.<sup>[1]</sup> Many of the estates were plantations in the 18th century.<sup>[1]</sup> No major development took place in Keswick until the 1990s, and the development since then has been subject to strict scrutiny by Albemarle County officials.<sup>[1]</sup>

The town includes Keswick Hall (<http://www.keswick.com/>) , a club and estate owned by Orient-Express Hotels, which includes a golf course. The town is also home to Keswick Vineyards (<http://www.keswickvineyards.com/>) , a family owned and operated vineyard and winery. Oakland School, a special boarding and day school for children with learning disabilities, is in Keswick, as is The Little Keswick School, a highly respected boarding school for students with social and emotional problems. A CSX freight rail line runs through the town. The Shackelford family, long prominent in Albemarle and Orange counties and in the Monticello Association,<sup>[2]</sup> has a family cemetery in Keswick.<sup>[3]</sup>

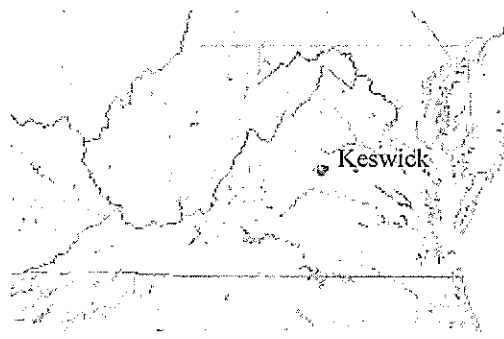

The postal delivery area by the name of Keswick is substantially larger than Keswick itself, extending to the north nearly to Gordonsville and to the west to Stony Point, encompassing towns too small to have a post office, including Cash Corner, Cismont, Lindsay, Stony Point, Boyd Tavern, Cobham, Whitlock, and Rosena.

Welcome to Pacific Coast Vineyards

Pacific Coast Vineyards is a family owned winery located in the heart of California's Central Coast. Our mission is to produce the highest quality hand-crafted wines from small vineyards.

These vineyards are located along the California coast line with it's sunny slope and maritime influence these grapes can reach their ultimate potential. The winemaker, Schaefer hand selects all of the vineyards and grapes to create a unique wine.

These boutique wines are structured in small lots, barrel aged in custom French American oak barrels for 18 months or longer. This barrel aging process enables the wine to mature and develop more robust layered flavors. Our 2007 Pinot Noir recently won the coveted Best of Class and the Judges' Choice awards at the 2010 San Francisco Chronicle wine competition.

Join "The Coastal Club" and you will experience and discover the great flavors of wine produced from select premium vineyards.

Volunteers play an ever-increasing role in our national and state parks. At Redwood, VIPs work side-by-side with National Park Service and California State Park employees to help care for these special places. Whether staffing an information center front desk, serving as a campground host, assisting park scientists in the field or lab, or picking up litter, volunteers are true stewards of our natural and cultural heritage!

From Forest's Edge to the Edge of Extinction

Sheltered in a soft nest of moss and ferns, a marbled murrelet chick waits silently atop a massive redwood branch high above the forest floor. Its parents spend their day at sea, diving for small fish, returning at dusk to feed their solitary offspring. Like the fog that shrouds the forest, a murrelet's life is connected to both forest and sea.

Oceanic influences ensure fairly constant year-round temperatures along California's redwood coast: generally mid-40s to low-60s degrees Fahrenheit. From October through April, winter storms dump the majority of 70 inches of average annual precipitation over the region. During the drier summer, fog shrouds the North Coast in life-sustaining moisture.

Step right in

Amongst the natural wood, the copper and the bar carved from a single piece of wood (check it out yourself!); the newly remodeled Sequoia Grove tasting room is just what you'd expect-- warm, welcoming and gracious, just like our staff.

Yet, you'll also be delighted by the details. The entrance is flanked by two large upright wooden casks. These are called puncheons, and impressive word to drop into casual conversation! Each puncheon was made in France and assembled here in 1981. Each is a different size designed to hold a specific lot of wine. The amazing natural light is courtesy of the "Lightning skylight." In 2003 lightning struck one of our Sequoia trees, causing it to crash through the roof. Always looking for the silver lining and being thrifty, we salvaged the wood from the fallen Sequoia to make redwood presentation boxes; and filled the hole in the roof with a skylight to let in a little more light.

And remember, you're among friends, ask anything you like. We'll be glad to share our wine expertise and love to hear your comments as well. We are very good listeners!

Tour & Tasting Programs

Sipping fine Sequoia Grove wines is great, but how in the world did that great taste get into that little glass? Find out with our newest tasting program.

You'll be greeted with a glass of Chardonnay in our newly renovated tasting room. Then we'll take you on a tour of our vineyards, winemaking facility, and grounds. We conclude with barrel tasting of our future vintages.

THE VINEYARD

History of Soda Creek Vineyards

Nestled along the Silverado Trail, the property now known as Soda Creek Vineyards has been in the Johnston family for more than 60 years. Back then, the surrounding fields were full of fruit trees, not grapevines.

Ruth Johnston and her husband, Art, started a turkey farm on the property, and once her son Dick returned from the Air Force in 1946, he brought home his bride to help work the land. Even after the turkey farm ceased operations in 1951, the Johnstons kept chickens, and the children (the grandchildren of Ruth) would visit the brooder houses that dotted the property to collect eggs.

These 20 acres also served as practice grounds for Dick and his National Guard buddies. They were part of an engineering battalion, and they honed their skills by building a bridge across Soda Creek, which cuts

Nestled in the Carson Valley, on the eastern slope of the great Sierra Nevada mountain range, lies the home of Tahoe Ridge Winery & Marketplace.

A visit to our tasting room will provide you the opportunity to savor the wonderful wines of Tahoe Ridge.

Tahoe Ridge is the pioneer of the Nevada wine and grape growing industry. Tahoe Ridge Winery is the oldest continuously owned and operated wine and grape growing company in the State of Nevada.

We developed the first vineyard in the state in 1990 and produced the first commercial wine in the history of the state from Nevada grown grapes in 2001.

We produce our award winning wines from the finest grapes grown throughout Nevada and California and proudly offer them to you with a complimentary wine tasting.

Like we say at Tahoe Ridge:

Tahoe Ridge can design and print custom wine labels for any event. Add that extra special touch to a great wine gift by personalizing a message on the label or add your company logo and contact information- your clients will be sure to remember you and your hospitality the next time they place an order!

Wine review: Yosemite Road Chardonnay NV

The Wine Curmudgeon really, really wanted to like this wine, which is one of the two, new $4 private label wines from 7-Eleven. But, unfortunately, it tastes like $4 wine.

This means the Yosemite Road (purchased) doesn't have enough varietal character -- the green apple and pear flavors that chardonnay is supposed to have aren't really there. And it wasn't especially balanced, as if more acid had to be used to compensate for the fruit quality.

This, obviously, won't bother everyone. The clerk at the 7-Eleven where I bought the Yosemite said he was selling quite a bit because it was so cheap. And, for those who like to keep a couple of bottle of the various ultra-cheap wines around the house because they are so cheap, the wine is probably OK.

The Yosemite had more off-tastes than some of the Trader Joe Two Buck Chucks I've tried, which are just thin and watery as opposed to off-putting. It didn't seem as well done as Walmart's $3 wine, but I haven't tasted that one in almost two years. And I've had some $6 wines, like Barefoot, which aren't appreciably better than any of these.

I only have one other question: Who will come up with a snazzy nickname for this wine, in the style of Two Buck Chuck?

7-Eleven wine, cheap wine, inexpensive wine, Yosemite Road, Two Buck Chuck, chardonnay
